Good Well at Henryetta.

Special to The World.
HENRYETTA, Okla., Dec. 25.—Quite a deal of interest was manifested in oil drilling circles this morning when the Kimbley well, one mile west of the city, which has given the drillers a record of trouble, gave forth a $2,000,000 per barrel gusher. The well was struck at 2,717 feet by oil sand, the drill sinking easily through this to a depth of 53 feet when at a depth of 2,770 feet, the flow of oil followed off. The well is of particular interest to Henryetta as it is located on one of the high hills overlooking the city, and many have been the conjectures as to its ultimate action when the contract depth of 3,500 feet had been drilled, and now that oil has been found, the final showing is awaited with increased interest.

Many Casinghead Plants at Okmulgee.

Special to The World.

OKMULGEE, Okla., Dec. 25.—Manufacture of gasoline from dry and casinghead gas has come to be one of the most important industries in the state. Using casinghead gas produced in the great Okmulgee oil fields, there are now 45 plants located in the county engaged in the manufacture of gasoline from gas. These plants represent an investment of more than $16,000,000 and are now producing from 55,000 to 80,000 gallons of high grade gasoline every day. At an average wholesale price of 15 cents per gallon, the daily product of these plants is worth from $12,000 to $13,000, $8,000 per week or $42,000,000 per year.

The gasoline manufacturing business which is a comparatively new industry in the country is growing rapidly, more than a dozen new plants having been constructed in the county during the past year.

There are 41 plants in the county of the type known as compression plants and four absorption plants, one group of Okmulgee men headed by W. E. Burke, operates four plants in this county and six in nearby counties. These 10 plants have 24 units, represent an investment of about $12,000,000 and produce 30,000 gallons of gasoline daily from 10,000 barrels of casinghead gas.

The five of Choctaw & South Eastern plants in this county, comprising eight units and the Riverine Western company has three plants of 19 units.

The largest absorption plant in the county is being erected by the Kingwood company, south of Okmulgee. It will have a capacity of 60,000 cubic feet of dry gas per day, but will not be operated to capacity.

The list of compression gasoline manufacturing plants in Okmulgee county on December 1, 1919, showing the name of the owner, location of plant and number of units in each, is as follows:
